Background and Experience: Kit Furey integrates her left brain skills drawn from her background in science and law with her heart-centered training in energy psychology and energy transformation. The result is her uncanny ability to boil down complex principles into simple, profound wisdom that audiences can relate to...and she develops effective step-by-step systems and programs to help people break free of limiting past conditioning. She speaks to the hearts of audiences and group participants who want fast, easy, gentle, lasting results by harnessing and redirecting the extraordinary power of their subconscious minds.

She has 16 years of training and experience with NLP and clinical hypnosis, is an instructor of Be Set Free Fast™ and Serenity Vibration Healing(R) and has experience with a wide range of other transformational modalities, including shamanic healing.

Interview Style: During her interviews she shares self-help tools and guides audiences through exercises so they can whisk away...once and for all...outdated subconscious patterns of belief, emotions and energy that lock them into the corners of limited lives, struggling to break free of what they don't want so they can align with and BE the frequency of what they do want.

A hallmark of her work is her ability to leverage her transformational tools in ways that result in deep, profound change with less time and effort for her clients and audience members often expect. She firmly believes that when people align all their levels of consciousness they are...literally...free to BE their authentic Selves, free to flow with the limitless possibilities that are always available when they expand their awareness enough to embrace them. However, depending on audience levels of interest, her interviews and the exercises she shares with audiences can be "seemingly linear and sequential" or "full out spiritual."

Programs and Topics: Her signature program is her Align & Awaken Journey™ to Live Fully as Your Higher Self, a digital self-study program. This program is both a systematic approach (a map) to stages of personal evolution, and it teaches and applies 3 transformational tools. Participants dissolve the root causes of limiting beliefs and patterns associated with 12 core archetypes (or soul growth patterns) that underscore the psycho-developmental journey of every human. (This inner map is the 'hero's journey,' however, I'm not finding that 'hero's journey' is common parlance, yet. The good news is: the 'hero's journey' may have more cachet now that Jean Houston has been on Oprah's program talking about the significance of the hero's journey for every person. If that is the case, this program is ready and poised to catch the crest of the wave of rising public interest.)
