"We live in a digital time. We live rushed, rapid fire and relentless days, carved up into bits and bytes. We race through our lives without pausing to reflect and consider. Who do we really want to be? Where do we really want to go? We're wired up, but we're melting down." Paraphrased from Jim Loehr & Tony Schwartz, The Power of Full Engagement.

- When you want your results to be truly extraordinary
- When you think it would take too much time to actually stop and solve the problems you're facing

"I was reeling with a sense of loss and grief! when my engagement fell apart.! I could focus at work, but only through sheer force of will-power.! And staying focused was hard.! I'm a natural leader, yet my grief was sapping my energy and locking me up in a shell. I didn't even have a desire to pursue any of my many hobbies. And that all changed during my 1:1 mentorship with Kit. I'm at peace with my past.! I'm opening up to new relationships and new experiences.! My friends and colleagues can see the changes I've made and give me compliments. The work Kit and I have done together is amazing!"! Jeremy McElliott, Boise, ID
